INTRODUCTION

To the Ag Science Student:

We are glad to have you in the Agriculture Science Program and we sincerely hope that you enjoy your time in the ag classroom, and as a member of the Klein Forest FFA. This handbook will answer many questions that concern the coming year. There will be additions to this handbook during the year. We hope that you will refer to this as the need arises.

Parents:

We have put together this booklet to help answer any of your questions or concerns that you may have through your child's experience in Ag. and the FFA.

We feel that the Agriculture Science Program is probably one of the best programs offered today. We offer not only classroom work, but field work also. We teach leadership, cooperation, and responsibility. These are traits we want all out young people to acquire.

Therefore, we ask for your help and cooperation in the coming year. Let's work together to learn together!

GENERAL RULES

1. Each student enrolled in the Agriculture Science class is encouraged to join the National FFA Organization. Dues of $40 must be paid by the deadline set in October. Students that do not join FFA are not eligible to participate in any FFA activity, judging contest, and/or any livestock shows. Dues are non-refundable after the student completes the membership form.
2. All FFA meeting will be based upon democratic principles as outlined in "Parliamentary Guide for FFA," by Jarrell D. Gray, and the FFA manual.
3. Hauling of livestock shall be arranged by the Ag Science Instructors.
4. Students may NOT enter the teacher's office if the instructor is out, or without permission.
5. Scheduled workdays will be determined at the beginning of each school year.
6. Shop safety procedures will always be enforced for all individuals that enter the shop

LIVESTOCK AND HORTICULTURE PROJECTS

When selecting a project, it is critical that the student have the parents' advice and support. There are many things to consider:

1. Can the student and/or parent afford the project?
2. Where the project will be kept?
3. Transportation to feed and care for the animal
4. Transportation for the animal when necessary
5. Time involved
6. Risk of losing money

You must keep in mind that these projects are a gamble and they can become a total loss. The gamble can be reduced by hard work and desire to learn and apply your knowledge.

PROJECT REQUIREMENTS

The animal(s) purchased for students' projects must be an animal designated for either breeding or slaughter purposes. In addition, please refer to the facility rules.

Family domestic animals do not meet the required project criteria.

The types of projects are as follows:

MARKET: steers, lambs, goats, swine, turkeys, chickens

BREEDING: chickens and rabbits

PLANT/HORTICULTURE: green house plants, garden crops (Projects involving crops that will be sold need to be approved by the agriculture teacher)

AG MECHANICS: All ag mechanics projects must be approved by the ag mechanics teacher(s)

THIS SUPERVISED PROJECT CAN BE A DREADFUL PROBLEM OR THE GREATEST LEARNING EXPERIENCE. IT IS ONLY WHAT YOU MAKE IT!

PURCHASE OF PROJECT

1. The selection and purchase of an agriculture science project is a cooperative effort involving the student, parent, and teacher. The agriculture science teacher's role is advisory only.
2. The student and parent are responsible for the purchase of any and all agriculture science projects.
3. Projects purchased for the purpose of showing must meet the requirements of the show(s) intended. The agriculture science teacher will assist in providing the student and parent the necessary information regarding the care and grooming of the projects for each show.
4. All projects must be owned by the student
5. The student is responsible for validations and entries at all shows.
6. The students and parents will make arrangements for transportation when selecting projects.

Recommendations for Feeding and Care of Animals

The feeding and care of the animals is a very important aspect of the livestock project. Many authorities believe it as important as purchasing a high-quality animal. All authorities believe it is responsible for at least 50% of the success or failure of a project.

Below is a list of several proven practices which if done consistently, will lead to success in the show ring.

Daily Care/Feeding

The daily routine of feeding and care is very important. All animals respond well to an organized routine. They should be fed twice daily in most cases. Normally this will require at least 30 minutes in the morning and 30 minutes in the evening (6:00-7:00 a.m. and 3:00-6:00 p.m. at the school farm.) Your feeding program will be tailored to your particular animal as recommended by your ag science teacher. Your choice of feeds will be up to you based upon your particular situation. It is best to discuss with the ag. science teacher the feeding program you are going to use.

Halter Breaking or Teaching the Animal to Lead

One of the more important considerations that arise early in the feeding period is teaching the calf, lamb, goat or hog to lead. The animal must be worked daily. This is no easy task and sometimes can be very time consuming. Consistency is the key. Some animals learn more quickly than others do, but normally this can be accomplished in the first several weeks. The animal must also be trained to stand correctly and calmly. This is critical, as in some cases the judge may want to handle the animal. This practice will require several additional hours each week.

Disease Prevention

Your animal's pen must be kept clean on a DAILY basis. This will help reduce fly problems and help in keeping the animal clean and healthy. Regular worming for internal parasites and vaccinations for more serious diseases is recommended. A close examination of your animal's feces, appetite, and attitude can help you assess its general health.

Weighing on a Regular Basis

Knowing your animals' weight and weighing on a regular basis is very important. Weight gain or loss is a good indicator of how well the animal is progressing/regressing. Animals should be weighed as often as feasible. It is particularly important near show time, as weight limits and weight classes are sometimes critical to placing the animal. It is also important to know the minimum and maximum weight limits for the species you are showing and the show you are entering.

Grooming Livestock for the Show

During the latter part of the feeding period, much time must be devoted to grooming the animal. Brushing and combing your animal are important daily routines. Washing and clipping will also be done on regular intervals to get a good view of how the animal is growing and progressing. In most cases, all animals will be clipped prior to the show to meet maximum hair requirements of the show that you are entering.

USE OF DRUG PROCURING AND MEDICATION

The agriculture teacher or the Klein Independent School District will not be held liable for injury to livestock or poultry while assisting the student with their project. This includes such things as giving medication, castration, dehorning, docking, worming, trimming, and any other activity directly involving the agriculture science teacher with student's animals.

Important Notice

It is strictly prohibited to administer any type of vaccine, drug, spray, feed additive, or substance internally or externally without first receiving approval of the vet/ag science teacher. All students are expected to read and agree to abide by the Animal Welfare Agreement.

DNA Testing

The purpose of DNA testing is to support the validity of ownership of the animal.

- A. An initial hair sample will be collected from each animal (steer, lamb, goat and swine) at the time of the selection process. Exhibitors must remain with their animal during the collection process.
- B. A legal guardian needs to be present when the sample is taken. If a legal guardian cannot be present a waiver form must accompany the student and be presented to show officials. Forms may be obtained from the Agriscience Teacher.
- C. The hair samples will be sealed in a tamper-proof envelope identified by the animal's ear tag number. The hair sample collection process will be facilitated by the Klein ISD FFA Show Committee, Inc. designee.
- D. The initial hair samples will be stored under the supervision of the Klein ISD FFA Show Committee, Inc. (Show Committee)
- E. The Show Committee reserves the right to initiate a DNA comparison test on any animal in the steer, lamb, goat, and swine divisions if ownership is in question (i.e. when an ear tag is lost or there is a question of tampering).
- F. If someone outside of the Show Committee wishes to submit a protest of ownership, it must be made with specific reasoning in writing, along with $250 cash, to the Klein ISD FFA Show Committee, Inc. The protest will be reviewed and considered by the Show Committee. If the protest is accepted, the $250 cash collected from the person protesting will be used, in part, to pay for the DNA testing. The $250 fee will be refunded if the protest proves to be valid (DNA does not match initial sample).
- G. If the owner refuses the collection of the initial DNA sample or a sample to be compared to the initial sample, or if the sample comes back from testing and it does not match the initial DNA sample, the entry is disqualified and the exhibitor forfeits all awards and all sale money (auction, freezer, add-ons) collected through the Show Committee. In addition, any future Klein ISD FFA Livestock and Project Show entries of this exhibitor are subject to DNA testing.

Drug Residue Avoidance Policy

A. Klein ISD FFA Livestock & Project Show maintains a Zero Tolerance Policy, which means if positive results are reported, we have an obligation to investigate.

- Zero Tolerance is based on the elimination period, rather than the withdrawal period.

The withdrawal period is the amount of time that must pass for consumed products to be safe. The elimination period is the amount of time it takes for all residue to be eliminated from an animal's system. For most drugs, the elimination period is longer than the withdrawal period.

- Unapproved drugs are prohibited.

Unapproved means not approved by the Food and Drug Administration and/or the U.S. Department of Agriculture for slaughter animals that may be destined for human consumption. This includes the use of all products that are not FDA approved including but not limited to any diuretic, unapproved growth stimulant or other unapproved medication meant for human usage.

NOTE: Products labeled "all natural" that are not FDA approved may contain ingredients that can result in a positive test.

B. Drug residue testing: Exhibitors and guardians consent and agree that any market entries may, at the discretion of the Show Committee, be tested for unauthorized use of medications or drugs. They further certify that they will not administer their market entry with any substance not approved by the FDA and/or USDA for this species. (For example, they will not give a substance labeled as a swine feed supplement to poultry.) Their entry is not, nor will it be, within any elimination or withdrawal time relative to the administration of any drug, chemical, or feed additive approved by the FDA and / or USDA by the time the animal(s) is officially checked-in by the Show Committee. As a condition for participation in the show, every exhibitor must agree to submit their animal(s) for testing at any time after check in. The Show Committee reserves the right to perform any test, including but not limited to tissue, feather, blood and / or urine laboratory analysis, on the Grand and Reserve champions, along with a random group of animals from each division. Random selections will be drawn prior to exhibition of the projects and posted for the exhibitors. The Show Committee President, Klein ISD Career & Technical Education (CTE) Director, and KISD CTE Coordinator for Agriscience will do the random drawing. The exhibitor and his/her guardian must be present during the collection for testing and must witness the sample; thus verifying the sample to be properly collected and prepared for analysis. The Show Committee reserves the right to condemn and / or disqualify any animal, either alive or dead, found in violation of the use of any drug, chemical, or feed additive as described above and the exhibitor will forfeit all awards and sale proceeds and be subject to testing at future Klein ISD FFA Livestock and Project Show. If an animal is disqualified for testing positive and/or the carcass condemned at slaughter, the disqualification will not impact class or overall placing for that species.

C. If a sample tests positive for illegal drug residue during the preliminary test, the guardian / exhibitor has the right to request a second test to confirm the results. The second sample taken from the same animal will then be sent to the state testing lab for further testing. The guardian / exhibitor will be responsible in advance for all costs associated with this second test. Should the results of the second test not confirm the findings in the first test, the cost of the test (minus shipping and handling) will be refunded. Knowledge of this pending information will only be made available to the Klein ISD CTE Director, Klein ISD CTE Coordinator, Agriscience Instructor and the two officers Show Committee for privacy purposes only.

D. Emergency Treatment: If an animal requires emergency treatment while on the Show grounds, only a licensed veterinarian with the prior approval of the Show Committee will be allowed to administer a drug, chemical, or feed additive. Treatment Cost: All treatment costs are the responsibility of the exhibitor.

E. Exhibitors refusing to submit their animal/pen for drug testing will be disqualified and must remove their animal/pen from the show grounds immediately.

F. Ultimate Care and Responsibility: By making entry into the Klein ISD FFA Livestock and Project Show, the exhibitor agrees and understands that ultimate care and responsibility for an animal / pen rest solely upon the exhibitor until such time that possession of the animal is turned over to the buyer and/or his agent(s).

a. Document all treatment records: If the animal is treated with an approved drug and withdrawal times are observed, it is the exhibitor's responsibility to maintain an official record in their AET record book of treatment from the veterinarian, including date of administration and dosage, as well as to inform their AST.

G. Exhibitors are encouraged to stay with their animal / pen during the hours that the Klein ISD Multipurpose Center is open. No one other than the Klein ISD Police Department and Klein ISD representatives will be allowed in the Klein ISD Multipurpose Center when it is closed. The Show Committee is not responsible for the acts of third parties.
